

Richmond Auto Auction Promotes Carter to General Manager

Plainfield, IL – Richmond Auto Auction announced earlier this month that Wyatt Carter has been promoted from Assistant General Manager to General Manager, effective immediately.

Carter has been with Richmond Auto Auction since the beginning of 2017, previously working for ADESA Orlando and Sanford Auto Exchange in Florida. He has been in the auction business for 13 years, holding many auction positions including Fleet Lease Manager and Assistant General Manager.

Mark Motley owner of Richmond Auto Auction commented, “We are very excited to have Wyatt move into this new role within the company. He has done an excellent job with the growth and development of the auction and is very deserving of this position.”

Carter added, “I have been fortunate to work with great people here at Richmond AA. Our operations team continues to improve on productivity and efficiencies while our sales team builds a credible base of dealer consignment business and aggressively growing commercial consignors.”

“We are excited for Wyatt in his new leadership role. With his vast auction experience, we look forward to our continued success in servicing and growing their clients, both dealers and consignors,” said Auction Management Solutions president Tom Stewart who provides consulting services for Richmond AA.

Richmond Auto Auction operates on 35 acres of land, offering over 400+ units weekly through 7 lanes. A full reconditioning and mechanical facility, in-house body shop, in-house transportation, AutoIMS, and full integrated on-line capabilities are available.
